SECRETARY

Dear Mr. Secretary,

I've recently read of a proposal that would permit products to bear the coveted "Made in USA" label, even though they were not wholly produced in this country.

In my way of thinking, this is another in a series of assaults on the American workforce, with downsizing + job security etc.

Apparently, Corporate America is interested only in the despised "bottom line".

It's disgusting to read and hear of CEO's acquiring huge salaries and ever bonuses for finding ways of thinning the ranks of our blue collar and white collar people and sending their jobs offshore.

Think back Mr. Secretary, where would this country be if it weren't for working people who gave a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

We've all worked too hard and too long to have this travesty of justice put upon our treasured label!

Yours Sincerely,

Timothy J. Hayes
