Subject: Fairness to Contact Lens Consumers Act of 2003

It is unheard of to limit ones ability to purchase contact lenses at reduced prices from suppliers other than an eye doctor. First of all, these physicians' prices are ridiculously high; and 9 out of 10 times, consumers have to order and wait and wait, and wait, because they don't stock ALL type lenses.

We as consumers, should certainly have the same rights as eyeglass wearers. With a prescription we are able to shop around for a good price, good quality the same as someone would shop for best grocery, prescription drug plans and household goods.

Please ensure that our rights are maintained and not squashed by lobbying eye doctors.

Thank you,
