

Comment # 467

From: Victor S. Blanco
Sent: Wednesday, March 17, 2004 9:50 PM
To: CONTACTLENSRULE
Subject: New rules on contact lenses

I read with dismay a new proposed rule by the FTC forcing me to have to wait for my contact lenses.

Why?

I use a disposable lens in my left eye.

To me, contact lenses are a commodity.

A means to see better and be more comfortable than with glasses.

Once I am fitted with the proper prescription, whose business is it when I get my lenses.

The sooner the better.

If I start running out, why should I have to wait days for a new batch?

Are you forcing me to store more lenses, so when I start running out I can afford to wait several days? Why?

Please explain to me Why?

Thank you

Victor Blanco

Texas