Subject: Fairness to Contact Lens Consumers

Dear Federal Trade Commission

My contact lens prescription is a part of my medical record, and as such, I am entitled to it. The prescription (medical record) belongs to me, the consumer. I am appalled that it would be considered in any other manner.

It is often difficult to obtain these prescriptions as the doctors view it as competition and are reluctant to release the prescription. If the doctors choose to be in a retail business that is certainly their right. It is my right to obtain my prescription.

Thank you

Susan Duval
