As a 25+ year wearer of contacts I am disappointed to hear that the FTC is considering restrictions on my purchase of lenses. For years the eye care industry has held us consumers hostage, requiring we purchase our glasses and contacts from doctors who inflate prices and give poor service and our records were held hostage. Now that we have acquired some rights and freedoms please do not consider restricting them again by limiting the speed and convenience by which we obtain replacement lenses.

Oftentimes lenses are lost or damaged and we must have them replaced immediately, not days later. Do not penalize us consumers by instituting a waiting period for contacts. It is not fair and equitable and will make obtaining proper eye care more expensive and inconvenient.

Thank you for considering my opinion.
