Two years ago when I bought this computer, it was to do research and photo albums. Now about all I do is run virus scans and try to keep all the spy ware and ad ware off. You have passed a bill to get telephone solicitors out of my home so why can't you pass a bill that will keep them off my computer? At least with the phone, I just hang up. With the computer, I have to almost physically remove them. To me, that is a greater intrusion.

Thank you,
